

Instruction of Children With Exceptional Educational Needs

Diocesan schools are encouraged to provide exceptional children, including special education and gifted/talented, the opportunity to receive a comprehensive and quality education, an education which is part of the total Catholic school community.

If it is determined that the school cannot adequately serve the specific needs of a child, he/she will not be accepted or retained in the school.

The final determination as to whether the child is retained or accepted in the school is the decision of the school.
